

NASA's Dryden Flight Research Center presents:
a K-12 TEACHER EVENT

March 12, 2003 9:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.
Dryden Flight Research Center, Edwards AFB

GUEST SPEAKER

"The Bad Astronomer"
Phil Plait Ph.D.

Answers to your student's questions, "Did we really go to the Moon?"

For more information on the guest speaker visit his website at:

www.badastronomy.com

WORKSHOP

Participants will:

-Make a Scale Model of Earth & the Moon

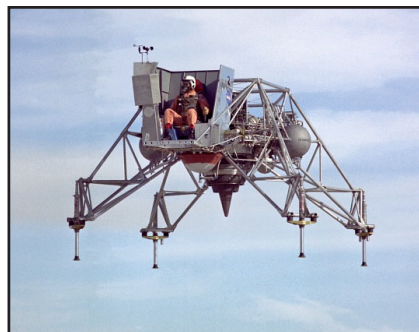

-Learn how to integrate Lunar Science Materials into your curriculum

-View the Moon Rocks and be certified to use them in your classroom

-Receive a video, posters, lithos, and lesson plans

TOUR

Dryden Flight Research Center Aircraft, including the Lunar Landing Research Vehicle (LLRV)

Your RSVP is critical to participate. Your name must be at the gate at Edwards Air Force Base for you to be allowed to visit the NASA Dryden Flight Research Center, which is located on the base.

RSVP to Tami Simmons at tami.simmons@dfrc.nasa.gov or 661.276.5009

Map on back

Routes to NASA Dryden

